

Breastfeed an Adopted Baby?

It is possible.....

Realistic information and support for parents-to-be

When: Wednesday, Sept 24th, 2008, 6:30 pm- 8:00pm

Where: The Children's Bridge office

1400 Clyde Ave, Suite 221

Refreshments provided

Cost: $5

RSVP: Wendy 613-226-9408 or Beth 613-298-6847

Come and learn about adoptive nursing from a lactation consultant and a mother who breastfed her baby, adopted from Korea, at 7 months.

The World Health Organization, the Canadian Pediatric Society and Ottawa Public Health all recommend that babies be breastfed for at least 2 years. Why not your baby?

Breastfeeding their new baby is something that many parents choose to do. All babies are born to breastfeed. Adopted babies can learn to breastfeed and most women can produce at least some of the milk that their baby needs